

CAN YOU ANSWER OUR QUESTION, PRESIDENT BUSH:

WHY ARE YOU MAKING NEVADA A DUMPING GROUND FOR AMERICA'S NUCLEAR WASTE?

“Now Bush needs to explain why radioactive waste is wrong for Texas but right for Nevada.”

Here comes George Bush.

He lands in Reno today for his only visit as President.

Four years ago he told us sound science would decide Yucca Mountain. But now we're hearing a different story.

Bush is dumping 77,000 tons of the nation's most dangerous nuclear waste right here in Nevada. Hundreds of trucks and railcars will carry this radioactive waste every year.

Governor Kenny Guinn said the President's decision was a “slap in the face of everyone, Democrats and Republicans.” [Associated Press, 2/18/02] Back when he was Governor of Texas, Bush said he didn't want his state to be a “dumping ground” for other states' radioactive waste. [Austin American-Statesman, 10/9/97]

Now Bush needs to explain why radioactive waste is wrong for Texas — but right for Nevada.

President Bush — before you go home tonight — can you explain why you promised you wouldn't open Yucca Mountain — and then let our state become the nation's dumping ground?

If nuclear waste is wrong for the people of Texas — why is it right for the people of Nevada?

Coming soon to your community:

Trucks and railcars will transport 77,000 tons of dangerous nuclear waste through virtually every corner of Nevada to the Yucca Mountain dumping site.
