

“The Gavin Newsom I Know is Sincere About Making Our Schools Better.”

My name is Anita Butler. I have one child in public school, and one child who recently graduated from high school.

It is almost to the point where I want to send my son outside San Francisco to go to school.

At this point in my son’s education I’ll do whatever it takes to make sure that he gets the education he needs. But our schools are just not doing the job the way they should and could.

Like most parents I’m tired of hearing all of the excuses. Politicians talk about making our schools better — but mostly it is just talk. I grew up in San Francisco. I went to Lowell High School. I just want for my son what I had — a great public school education.

We need someone who is sincere about sticking in there and doing what it takes to make our schools better.

That’s why I’m supporting Gavin Newsom.

He’s listening to the concerns. He’s going out to the parents and going out to the communities. He’s actually talking to the kids about what their concerns are in the schools as well.

Gavin has a real plan to help our kids. He is working to make sure we get the grant money we need to pay for better programs. He is fighting to rebuild the schools. He wants to have the city and the schools work together to share resources and reduce duplication. His plan would help our kids, and our city.

And Gavin is also working to make sure we help our local colleges as well. He wants to make sure our kids get a great education in the first place, and that they can also find opportunities to learn throughout their lives.

All these politicians are jumping up and down and talking about schools. Only Gavin Newsom seems to be listening to parents, teachers and kids. Only Gavin Newsom has proven he has the courage and the commitment to work on a problem every day until it is solved.

That's why I support Gavin Newsom for mayor.
